

How To Clean Jeep TJ Vents

Here's how to clean Jeep TJ vents. Just pluck them out of the dash. Go ahead, it won't hurt them. I used a hook-ended tool to get them out. You can do something similar. They pop back in as easily as they come out. Once you have them out, you can stick them in the dishwasher if your old lady will allow it or clean them however you like.

This view shows what the center console vent looks like just after popping out. Use the hook tool to grab the horizontal part towards one side or the other so that the vent doesn't break.

This view shows what the side vent looks like just after popping out. Use the hook tool at the top of the vent. A pair of vice grips will also work. But it won't look as nice after.
