Editors Message:

Meeting location change. We will be meeting at Zitos Pizza 2036 Tustin St, Orange. Zitos is offering a 10% food discount during the meeting.

Run leaders plan and get run announcements out early, so participants get make plans. Email a copy to me the newsletter editor, Chris Slaughter and bring a copy to the regular meeting.

Josh and Roy will be asking you to help with our adopta Dish Pan Springs. Last year the top club donated over 3500 hours maintaining trails in the San Bernardino Forest. The dirt Devils were considerable less. The Adopta trail program goes a long way towards keeping trails open. I would hate to see dish pan get closed because of a lack of support.

The CAL4W storage space was broken in and all gear was stolen. Our club did donate $300. To help replace those stolen items.

I would like to report on what GPS device we are using. If you would, reply to me with what GPS device you are using and why. I will report the results next month.

Please bring cowbells to the December meeting, "the old logo green bell" is missing. If you have the old logo cow bell, reply to Mike Wallace.

See you on the trail.

So Cal Access Issues

Appeal denied: More good news on Imperial Sand Dunes decision

Thursday, 03 November 2016

Written by Dennis Porter, Cal4Wheel Legal Counsel

We received a favorable decision last August from a three (3) Judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirming the trial court's earlier decision to uphold the Bureau of Land Management's (BLM) Record of Decision to reopen most of the area that had been closed to OHV activity by an earlier lawsuit brought by the Center For Biological Diversity (CBD).

The CBD then filed a Petition for Certiorari (review) of that decision. I have now received a notice that denied that petition for a rehearing, en banc, and no judge has requested a vote on whether to rehear the matter en banc. That ends that matter as far as the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals is concerned.

The only hope the CBD now has to prevail is to file a Petition for Review with the US Supreme Court. About 8,000 petitions for review are filed with the US Supreme Court each year, but less than 100 are accepted each year, a 1% rate of success for accepting a case for review. Not very good odds if the CBD decides to try for a Supreme Court review. Keep in mind though that this case has been going on for 17 years in one form or another, so I would not be overly surprised if the CBD does file for certiorari. They have nothing to lose at this point.

BOTTOM LINE -- The area that BLM reopened to OHV activity at Glamis a few years ago in their Record of Decision will stay open to OHV usage pursuant to the terms and conditions of that Record of Decision. This has been a long, hard, expensive fight but it appears to be over for now. California Four Wheel Drive Association and its partners, the BlueRibbon Coalition (BRC) and the American Sand Association (ASA), and EcoLogic have prevailed (BIG TIME) in this battle to protect your rights to engage in OHV activity at the Imperial Sand Dunes.. They were great partners to work with in this joint effort to maintain responsible multiuse OHV activities on our public lands.

Los Padres NF announces closures

Tuesday, 07 June 2016

OHV Area Closed

Los Padres National Forest officials today announced the closure of the Rockfront Off-Highway Vehicle (OHV) Area due to concerns related to dead and dying hazardous trees that pose a safety risk to visitors. The temporary closure is effective immediately.

This temporary closure includes Baja, Buck Springs and Paradise campgrounds, Rockfront OHV Staging Area, as well as the following trails: Upper 35 Canyon, Paradise, Branch Creek, Big Rocks, Jack Springs, Twin Rocks, Shaw Ridge, Logan Ridge, and Los Machos. These areas will remain closed until the public safety risk is mitigated by cutting the hazardous trees.

The effects of rising temperatures, extended drought, and aggressive bark beetle infestations have created a tree mortality epidemic across California. Since 2010, an estimated 40 million trees have been lost. These standing dead trees have created hazards across the forest and surrounding communities and campgrounds, and present an unnecessary risk to visitors and employees along roads, trails and utility corridors. They also pose a significant threat to communities and fire responders if a wildfire occurs in these high-hazard areas.

Qualified Forest Service wildland firefighters will be conducting the hazard tree cutting as they are available from other wildland fire operations. OHV recreationists are encouraged to utilize the Pozo-La Panza OHV Area as an alternative during the Rockfront OHV Area temporary closure.

Members of the public are reminded that they should always call ahead to the district office for the latest conditions and consult the National Weather Service for current weather forecasts.

For more information, visit our website or call the Santa Lucia District Office at (805) 925-9538.

Adopta Trail

Adopta trail run leaders: Josh & Roy

The forest service would like at least one person in each adopta trail club to take a first aid class.

Off road dangers

Mistake #1: Don't Tell People About Your Off-Road Trip – In this day and age, there's no excuses for not telling anyone about your off-roading trip. Send a text message. Post on Facebook or Twitter. Call someone. Let them know where you'll be going as well as how long you'll be staying. Better yet don't go alone.

Mistake #2: Don't Pack the Right Gear – It's not just about off-roading. It's about survival. Pack blankets, food and water as well as warm shoes and clothes just in case you get stranded. It's essential to also pack maps and handy tools to repair your ride.

Mistake #3: Metal Tow Hooks – Using metal tow hooks can be dangerous when not used properly. They can break off and become a dangerous flying object when towing. It's better to use a tie method when towing vehicles off-roads.

Mistake #4: Driving Like a Madman – Take it easy when hitting the trails, especially if you're in a new place. It's not worth rolling your vehicle. Approach ravines and low-lying areas with caution.

Mistake #5: Improper Winching – When using a winch, don't stand too close to it when it's active. If the cable snaps, you could get injured. Read how to properly use your winch before using it for the first time.

Mel Wade's Jeep EVO1 Baja race report

1st JEEP JK wrangler ever to finish the Baja 1000....

Wow what a race.

We started the race and lost throttle pedal at race mile 15 since it was throttle by wire we had to start chasing electrical , we ended up finding a ECU plug not fully clipped !! we got it corrected and headed back out only losing about an hour of time , we ran clean and even got to pass a group of about 10 rigs in a huge pile up in the rocky section around race mile 60 !! The crew had all of our pits perfect we started having a bad pull left when braking at mile marker 170 we pulled into the pit and found we had ripped a upper link mount off of the front axle and it had cut and smashed the brake line . We removed the link and pinched off the brake line and kept going , ran clean for the next few hundred miles at race mile 470 I got out and had Garth drive and M4 codog . I got an hour rest then jumped back in at mile 520 with M4 as codog it was around 730 am now !!

We headed over the pass to the see of Cortes side then at mile 620 over some big whoops we came to harsh stop , I ripped off the front driver lower control arm mount off the axle , and the axle slid back and pinion ripped into the oil pan !!

I was able to Hilift the front of EVO 1 up and winch the front axle back into place ! With a quick text to Harley asking for a welder and oil , the crew was on there way , when they got there Garth jumped right in and welded the oil pan and link back on we went ahead and welded the upper axle link mount also ! We were back and running we lost around 5 hours but were able to move again !!!!at race mile 635 I had M4 drive till 700 then I got out of the car and had Garth drive with M4 navigating , I was able to catch a nap then got back in the drivers seat at 777 went for the finish !! With 20 miles to the finish line we can up on some broken trucks on a single track section , the vehicle backed up a little and waded me around while trying to go around them a bush got stuck in my pulleys and kicked off the belt, I was able to get it back on and headed to the Finish !! - Mel Wade

Cowbells

The cow bell rules are: Cow bells are awarded from air down to air up. If you get stuck and are unable to move under your own power and need the help of a winch or you get strapped from one of your fellow jeepers then you have earned the privilege of hanging the cow bell from your front bumper. You must leave the cow bell on the front of your rig until another Dirt Devil gets stuck. Then you proudly hand it over. While on the trail, not on the highway to the trail.
