

Holcomb Creek

Today, Oct 15, 2022, I led a total of 8 rigs on Holcomb creek. We started at the Fawnskin Fire station at 9:00am and departed about 9:15am. 3 member rigs, 5 guests.

The group moved quickly through all the first half of the trail, and we arrived quickly at the center rock garden around 11:00 am. At the center rock garden, which was exceptionally wet and muddy, one guest rig required winching due to a lack of functioning locker. All others moved though with minimal spotting or issue.

The group stopped for lunch at 'the rockpile' for about 30 minutes and enjoyed a nice lunch and some discussion. We departed around 12:30 to complete the trail. At the final (long) rockgarden one guest required a strap to make progress when he attempted a bonus line and got high-centered.

No club member cowbells to report, no mechanical issues. Departed the trail at 1:30pm.
